- b. On 27th January, all teachers attended a workshop on support for Students with Special Educational Needs, which was conducted by our school's educational psychologist, Ms. Choi Man Nga. The workshop explained how to support students in their daily classes.

2. Students' all-round development

- a. Our students took an active part in charity activities. During the Christmas and New Year holidays, students participated in the "2022 Hong Kong Lantern Festival" and Guinness World Record Challenge for Folding the Most Paper Cranes. They folded paper cranes at home to bring positive energy and blessings to Hong Kong.
- b. The Chinese White Dolphins is one of the mascots of Hong Kong. To enhance students' understanding of the Chinese White Dolphins and the importance of conservation and environmental protection, the school borrowed the Chinese White Dolphin exhibition display boards from the Agriculture, Fisheries and Conservation Department. During the exhibition, students learned more about the habitats, distribution and conservation of the Chinese white dolphins.
- c. On 13th January, the school held a Putonghua activity day for students. They participated in various fun booths and learned a lot from the games. This activity promoted students' interest in learning Putonghua.
- d. The school held the January Prize-giving Ceremony for students who performed well in various competitions on 13th January.

3. Home-school cooperation

- a. The school held a charity flower sale for the Community Chest on 13th January. Many students and parents supported the event by buying potted plants or donating directly.
- b. The Education Bureau announced that all primary schools in Hong Kong suspend face-to-face instruction on or before 14th January until the Lunar New Year holidays. Face-to-face classes were suspended from 14th January. During the suspension of face-to-face classes, the school uses online classes to provide teaching and corresponding support to students, so that students can continue to study at home.
